INVITATION & CALL FOR PAPERS

INDUSTRIAL BIOTECHNOLOGY INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Padua, Italy
11-14 April, 2010

<http://www.aidic.it/ibic2010>

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

IBIC2010 is the second biannual International Conference on Industrial Biotechnology.

The 2010 event will be focused on five main items: Nanobiotechnology, Biocatalysis for a sustainable chemistry, Proteomics, Novel aspects of fermentation and Innovative process engineering.

IBIC2010, as well the previous events, is organised by AIDIC, the Italian Association of Chemical Engineering, and its Working Group on Biotechnology

IBIC2010 will cover very timely topics of Industrial Biotechnology by invitation of skilled Italian and international speakers. IBIC2010 aims to exchange up-to the minute information on industrial needs, new technology developments and research opportunities.

VENUE

The IBIC2010 Conference will be held at
HOTEL PLAZA
Corso Milano, 40 - 35139 Padua, Italy

The Plaza Hotel is the main hotel in the historic centre of Padua, a convenient location close to the Civic Museum of the Hermits, the Scrovegni Chapel with the Giotto frescoes, the church of Sant'Antonio, and the main square.

The provincial capital of Padua (Padova to the locals) lies 37km west of Venice on the edge of the Euganean Hills. The older part of the town has a medieval aspect with its narrow arcaded streets, ancient bridges over the many arms of the River Bacchiglione and the Byzantine domes of its churches.

The city of St Anthony and home to Italy's second-oldest university, Padua is also the site of one of the most remarkable works of late Gothic art (prefiguring the Renaissance) in Northern Italy
